

The inaugural presentation of ArtRageous! Oak Park was a great success! It showcased over 100 art events in our community over the course of 10 days to 1,000 visitors. Highlights included the Oak Park Arts District workshops, a studio walk featuring 17 Oak Park artists, the sold out debut of an independent feature film at the Lake Theatre, and several author readings/book signings all taking place in numerous venues throughout the 4.5 square miles of Oak Park.

A!OP provided a unique forum for local businesses and artists to share their talents. The combinations of art were amazing and provided the catalyst for ArtRageous! Oak Park 2010 – October 7-11, 2010. (Pictures follow and events are listed at www.artoakpark.com.)

This wonderful event would not have been possible without the generous support of our sponsors. Would you please consider joining this prestigious and growing list of local businesses/organizations? We are pleased that Wednesday Journal and Saltzman Printers have pledged their support at the Platinum level.

Why does it make sense to be an ArtRageous! Oak Park sponsor?

1. Your sponsorship tells visitors that you support the arts and businesses in Oak Park, that you believe in the legacy created by Frank Lloyd Wright and Ernest Hemingway and that you believe today's artists embrace this heritage.
2. Your sponsorship gives you access to these intelligent, affluent visitors with an appreciation of the arts. You can market and grow your business through the A!OP website (over 3,000 unique visitors in 2009!) and/or A!OP promotion materials.

With your financial support, we will be able to increase our marketing efforts. We will continue to market A!OP via Facebook, the A!OP website, online calendar listings, press releases, etc. Last year we were featured on Comcast's Newsmakers segment reaching 1,000,000 viewers, two broadcasts of Ray Hanania's radio show on WJJG with 6,000,000 listeners, Yelp.com with over 250,000 subscribers, and a Chicago Tribune article with 500,000 readers. This year we will also be promoting the event via print publications and through intensified Oak Park Convention and Visitors Bureau marketing efforts. We anticipate the number of visitors to ArtRageous! Oak Park 2010 to increase significantly, as we reach a wider audience of art enthusiasts.

Your involvement supports the arts and businesses in Oak Park and helps A!OP continue to be a high caliber attraction, bringing more visitors to Oak Park each year. All contributions are tax deductible as A!OP falls within the Oak Park Area Arts Council's umbrella as a 501 © 3 charitable organization.

Thank you for your support. Please note that our deadline for sponsors is Friday, April 30, 2010 – we look forward to working with you!

Best regards,

Jessica Roble-Cinelli
ArtRageous! Oak Park
Artoakpark.com
708.902.6402

Rosalyn G. Long
RGL Marketing for the Arts, Inc.
rglmarketingforthearts.com
630.279.0035

Scenes from ArtRageous! Oak Park 2009...

Felting Workshop at Pamela Penney Textile Arts

Oak Park Festival Theatre's Dracula! in Pleasant Home

Margot McMahon Welding at Loro Auto Works

Gallery Opening at Homescape

John Gawne – Studio Walk

Elizabeth Strout Book Signing at Oak Park Public Library